VILLAGE HALL GROUNDS

PLEASE PICK UP AFTER YOUR DOG

IT IS NOT THE JOB OF OTHER LOCAL RESIDENTS TO DO THIS FOR YOU

Nor should Parish precept funds have to be used for CCTV or a dog warden which seems to be the alternatives.

The recreation ground is covered by BDBC bylaws; failing to clean up after your dog is subject to £100 fixed penalty as per the BDBC Public Spaces Protection Order (Dec 2023).

The PLANNING & INFRASTRUCTURE

BILL is at Report stage in the Commons, where MPs can debate and propose further amendments.

The Bill would take power away from local planning committees. Instead of including community participation, the Bill could make it easier for developers to back out of, for eg, commitments to build affordable homes or respect local design standards.

Please let our MP know you want local planning committees to be guaranteed a say about the most important local planning issues.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT REORGANISATION – COUNTY PROPOSALS FOR FOUR OPTIONS

www.hants.gov.uk/News/20250616LGRoptions

'Hampshire County Council is preparing to submit its own proposal to Government this autumn, alongside those from other local authorities in the region. While we continue to work with our partners... as well as sharing data, it's important we put forward our own recommendation... In recent weeks we've been reviewing the detail of four options:

(All options include the Isle of Wight as a single independent unitary authority.)

Option 1 Two mainland unitaries.

1 North: BDBC, East Hants, Hart, New Forest, Rushmoor, Test Valley, Winchester

2 South: Eastleigh, Fareham, Gosport, Havant, Portsmouth, Southampton.

Option 2 Three mainland unitaries.

1 North: BDBC, East Hants, Hart, Rushmoor, Test Valley, Winchester

2 South: South-West: Eastleigh, New Forest, Southampton

3 South-East: Fareham, Gosport, Havant, Portsmouth.

Option 3 Three mainland unitaries.

1 North: BDBC, East Hants, Hart, Rushmoor, Winchester

2 South-West: Eastleigh, New Forest, Southampton, Test Valley

3 South-East: Fareham, Gosport, Havant, Portsmouth.

Option 4 Four mainland unitaries.

1 North-East: BDBC, Hart, Rushmoor

2 Central: Test Valley, Winchester, East Hants

3 South-West: Eastleigh, New Forest, Southampton

4 South-East: Fareham, Gosport, Havant, Portsmouth.

'These options will be considered in July by Hants Cabinet and Full Council meetings of 8th July at 10.30, and 17 July at 10.15 respectively.' [Noting BDBC have Cabinet and Council meetings at 6.30pm on the same days.]

If agreed, wider public engagement will begin during the summer.

Cllr Nick Adams-King, Leader, Hampshire County Council

NEWNHAM 900

St Nicholas' Newnham is part of the North Hampshire Downs Benefice of 12 churches.

We believe there was a Saxon settlement and church at the site which would pre-date the 12th century. However, the definitive evidence for its origins is a Norman arch in the church which has been dated to between 1124 and 1125.

Many villagers of Newnham and clergy from across the benefice joined together to celebrate, along with Bishop Philip, the Bishop of Winchester, who led the service. We had a joyous day, glorious weather, delicious tea, a church filled to the brim with people from near and far.

Local residents were joined by some with long term connections with the church, such as a lady whose parents were married in St Nicholas' and she was baptized there, and others who lived in the village in the past.

It really was an occasion to both 'celebrate the past and build the future'.

Seven residents from Rowan Lodge came to celebrate with us along with their families/carers; we were delighted to see them along with children and young people joining us too. Borough and parish councils were represented by the mayor and chairman respectively.

We had a wonderful service with fantastic singing and beautiful anthems from the choir from Weston Patrick, led by Susan Bright and our organist, Martin Barnes.

Young twins of one of our ministers gave out our Newnham 900 candles at a speed faster than even an Amazon Prime delivery. And two of our older girls took the collection for us and did it brilliantly.

I just want to say thank you to everyone who participated in making it such a wonderful day; full of fellowship and community, with magnificent praise for our glorious God and 900 years of faithful worship in this place.

Amen

Much love and many blessings

Rev Debz

I am hugely thankful for all the people who participated and made it such a special day. There were so many teams of people:

- the churchyard mowing team, who were out on the Thursday before and smartened up the graveyard
- the flower/cleaning rota team: who not only made the church spick and span, but beautifully decorated too
- the welcoming team: who had their hands full getting people to their seats and handing out a 100 orders of service
- the tea team and all those who baked: who did an incredible job providing teas for over 100 people with delicious food and sandwiches.

And thanks as always to the Hawkes for use of their beautiful barn.

As usual with a church event, there was more than you could possibly ever eat and lots of people took lots of food home. Quite a few of had pizzas for tea that night, kindly provided by Rowan Lodge.

900 Years of Faith:
A Reflection from

St Nicholas' Newnham

St Nicholas' church in Newnham has been a place of worship for at least 900 years. With a Norman arch dating to around 1125, and possible Saxon roots even earlier, the church has been a sacred constant in the life of this village for centuries. People have been baptized, married, buried here – generation after generation witnessing to the enduring importance of faith in community life.

As part of our Newnham 900 celebrations, we've explored the Church's role across history – from the Norman conquest to the Civil War. Throughout these periods, the Church wasn't just a building – it was the heart of life. Faith shaped how people lived, thought, and related to one another. It was central and essential.

Of course, the Church has had its failures, including one Hampshire example in the Civil War where horses were slaughtered and stacked to block attacking troops and more recently with the failing of the institutional church to recognise and act upon abuse, abandoning the most vulnerable.

But the Church has always stood as a place of sanctuary too, symbolised by Winchester Cathedral's shattered stained-glass window, later reassembled into a beautiful mosaic. Like our lives, faith holds together the broken pieces and transforms them into something meaningful.

So why, after 900 years of relevance, has the Church become unimportant to many? Often, it's a question of proof. People say: 'I can't see God, so I can't believe.' But belief in unseen things is not unusual. We accept the existence of atoms, bacteria, red blood cells, and distant galaxies without ever seeing them ourselves. We trust the testimony of those who've studied and recorded them.

The Christian faith is built on similar testimony. The Gospels provide eyewitness accounts of Jesus' life and ministry recorded by his disciples. These are not second-hand myths but the reflections of those who walked beside him. And many lives have been changed by this witness.

Science and faith are not enemies. Faith isn't a rejection of intellect – it's a decision to trust evidence passed down by those who have seen and known.

Today, the Church is not a rich institution. It's more like the NHS: under pressure, overstretched, and trying its best with limited resources. Many ministers serve without pay, or with housing alone. Our rural churches are struggling, not because faith is less real, but because regular attendance and support have faded. If local churches are to survive, they need more than money – they need people to come, to commit, and to believe.

In a world full of uncertainty – political unrest, war, division – faith remains one of the few things that offers something solid. God's love is constant. Worship reminds us of eternity, of purpose, and of the deep truth that we are loved.

We are invited into relationship with God – not through pressure, but through love; love in, with and alongside Jesus Christ; part of a Christ-centred heritage leading to a Christ-centred future...

So if you've ever dismissed faith as outdated, think again. Nine hundred years of Christian belief in Newnham tells us this isn't a passing trend.

It's something deep, real, and life-changing.

Come and see. Come and believe. Come and be changed. Amen.

Recently I went walking in the Forest of Bere for the first time. At the entrance of one of the walking tracks was a sign with the heading: Forest for Wellbeing. I read on. 'Spending time among trees and really noticing nature, is scientifically proven to help us boost our physical and mental health.' Along the track I found a number of other signs and panels that encouraged me to stop and pay attention to what was around me. By the end of the walk, I found that I felt a little bit lighter and more calm and steady in myself. Christian tradition teaches us that God is always calling us into the present moment. We can so easily get lost in our regrets of the past and our worries about the future, but right here and right now is the only moment that truly matters. This is what prayer is for; connecting with God and with ourselves in the here and now, and allowing space for God's life and love to come through into the present.

As we enjoy the summer and get out and about, I really encourage you to take some time, either by yourself or with the people you are with, to slow down and pay attention to what's around you – to connect with nature, yourself and with God. Here's a simple idea that I found on the walk at Forest of Bere which you might like to use:

As you walk take time to notice:

5 things that you can see....

4 things you can touch...

3 things you can hear...

2 things you can smell...

1 thing you can taste.

This type of practice is not just good for our physical and mental health, but it is good for our emotional and spiritual wellbeing as well.

So, what things will you do this summer that will help to nurture your whole self and connect you with the things that matter most?

Every blessing

Paul

HOLIDAY CAMP 4th-7th August

All Saints' Odiham

This year we have exciting news! We are moving to a new location – All Saints' Odiham..

This will allow us to cater for more children, including children with additional needs, have better accessibility to catering and toilet facilities and protection from the elements. But don't worry - we are collaborating with local sports clubs and schools to allow the children amazing access to an even more varied selection of outdoor spaces and sporting opportunities.

The times have not changed (Monday-Thursday, 1pm-4.30pm), and we will still be looking into offering a football camp before we start, for those who want to (more details to follow). And the price still hasn't changed, it remains £20 for the week, payable in advance.

Our theme is 'The Guardians of Ancora', a popular Christian computer game from Scripture Union, and the children will be learning about Jesus' life through loads of different media and exciting activities.

Please use the QR code.

WELCOME TO REVEREND SUZANNE NEWCOMBE

We are anticipating a wonderful celebration in Winchester Cathedral on Sunday 29th June, at the ordination of Suzanne Newcombe.

Many of you will already know Suzanne who has been ministering across our Benefice for a number of years as a Licensed Lay Minister (LLM) – what used to be known as a 'Lay Reader'. Suzanne has done wonderful work leading pastoral care, worship services on Sundays, home visits and communions, and much more besides.

In her new ordained role, she will be providing pastoral oversight and local leadership in St Mary's Herriard, and (alongside Revd Linda Scard), at St Lawrence' Weston Patrick, where she has already been involved for the last few years.

Suzanne, we are so pleased to be able to celebrate with you on 29th June, and we will be praying for you and John as you settle into your new role.

Welcome!

Chris Dudgeon, Rector, North Hampshire Downs Benefice

YOUR PERSONAL INVITATION

Odiham District u3a is holding an Open Day at Robert Mays School on Wednesday 13th August from 2-4pm

We would love you to come along (No booking required). We have over 70 groups and they will all be there, with stalls which will showcase their activities and provide an opportunity for you to talk to group members and learn about what they actually do.

If you are interested in getting more exercise, or satisfying your creative talents, or discovering new interests, or exploring literature or politics, or just want to socialise, there could well be something which catches your eye.

Our u3a covers Odiham, Hook and the surrounding villages and is open to everyone of any age who has the time and interest in staying active and engaged. It's an organisation run for its members, by its members, and you will have the opportunity to meet many new faces, as well as old friends.

Please accept our invitation and just come along, and bring a friend perhaps. We look forward to welcoming you on August 13th. If you would like to know more, please visit our website www.odihamu3a.org.uk

N Hants Downs Mothers' Union

I am writing this a couple of days before the Hartley Wintney Village Festival and I would like to say a big THANK YOU to everyone who has given me books to sell on our stall – and are currently stacked around my house! We are helping to raise money for groups which support women and girls around the world to learn to read and write.

Mothers' Union also runs projects locally, in particular our Sunflower Café which we run jointly with the Vine Church on Wednesday afternoons and our Child Contact Centre which supports children in families where the parents are estranged. We would welcome more volunteers for either of these projects.

Our branch usually meets on the first Monday of the month. However in July, we will be meeting for a social get-together before having a break in August. If you want to find out more about Mothers' Union or our branch, please contact Sue Murphy on suemurphymubbranch@outlook.com or 01252 845011 / 07881 828450.

PS We made a total of £158.20 on our Hartley Wintney stall selling books – and I am hoping to find other occasions to sell more.
